CAFE CARIOCA

JOSÉ SENNA

LOST IN REALITY

ANA KRUSCHEWSKY

Created using a pop-art overlay and completed using nails and thread to create a graphic, elevated textured layer.

LOST IN THOUGHTS

ANA KRUSCHEWSKY

This work attempts to connect the substantiality of the world around us with the vagueness of feelings and thoughts. It symbolizes the complex strength and fragility of the human psyche. There is an echo of the internal and the external, the real and the surreal.

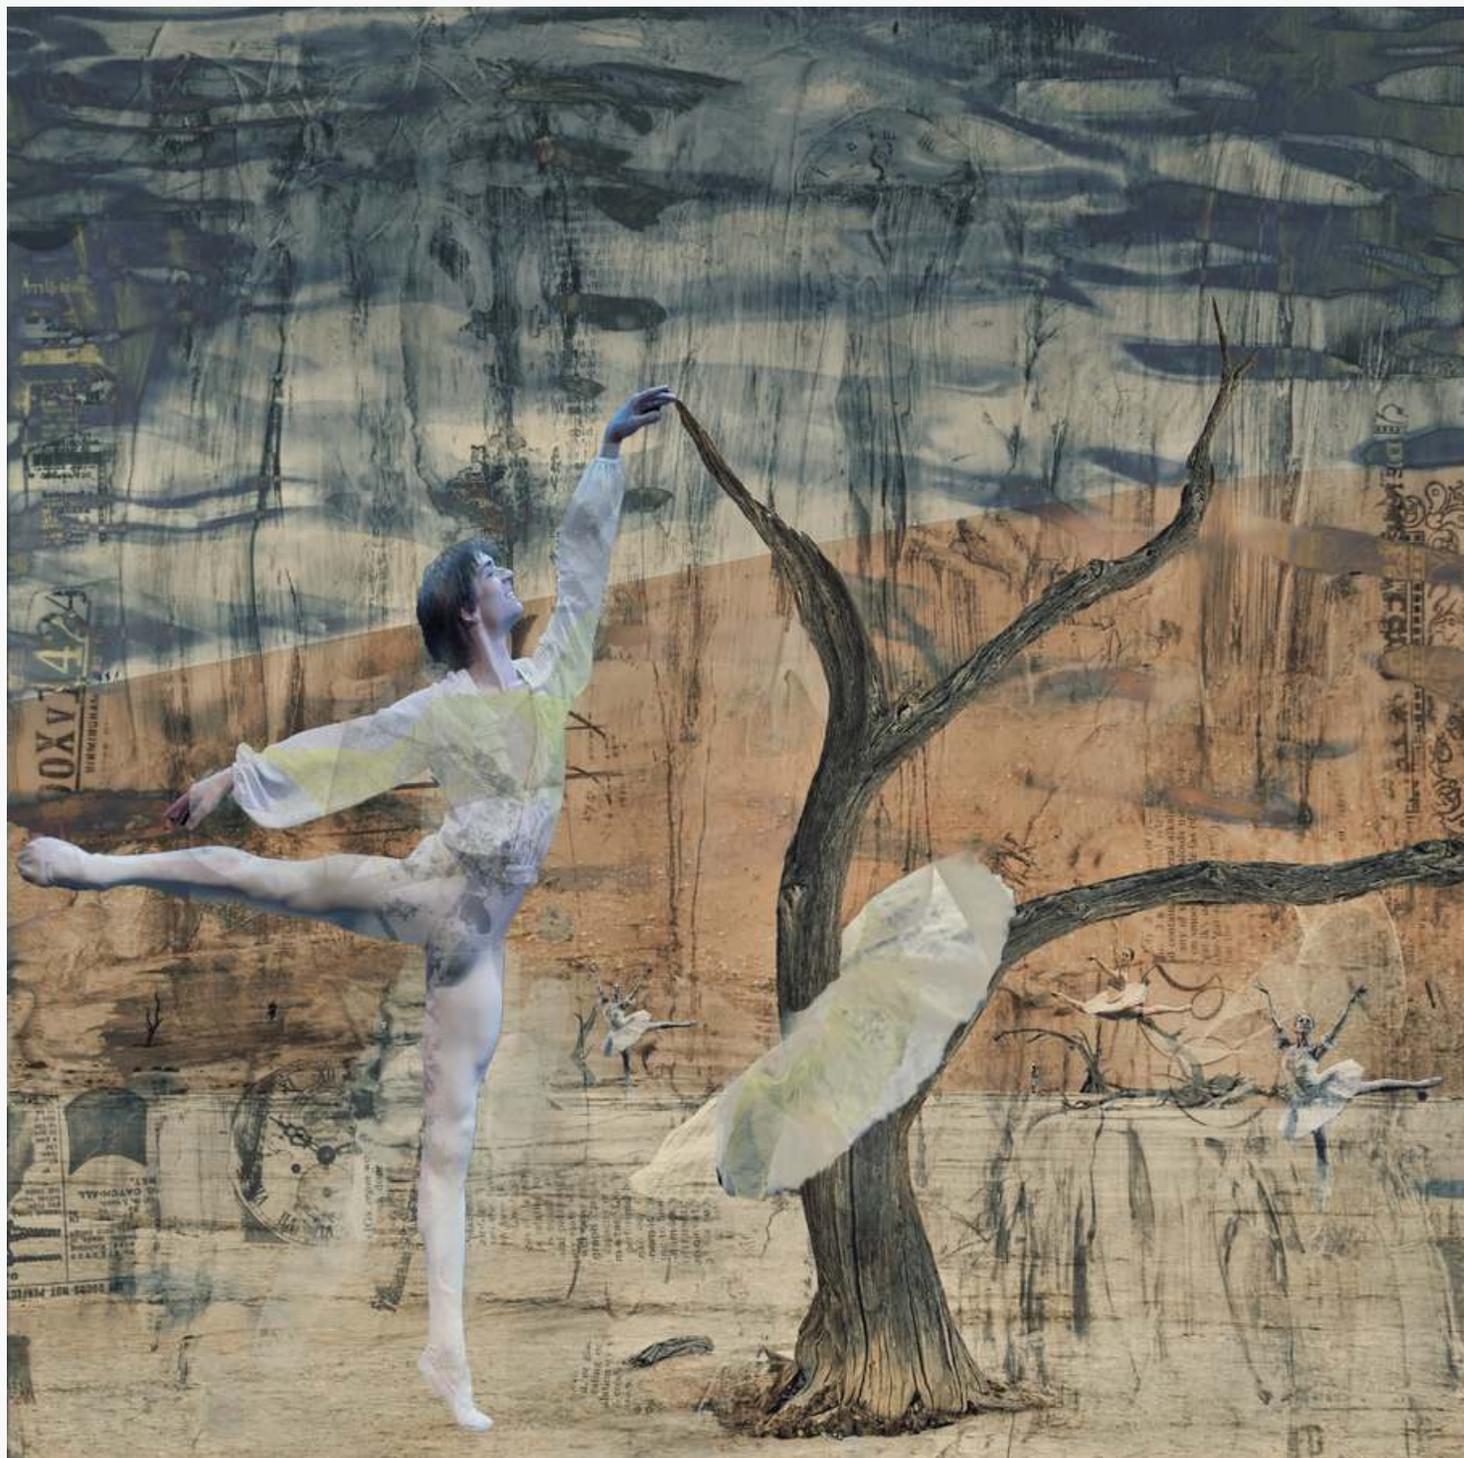

LOST IN REVERIE
ANA KRUSCHEWSKY

A woman hidden and protected from the world behind the flowers represents the burden of our thoughts, doubts, and fears - the inclusion of music represents hope.

SOSSUSVLEI BALLET - ARABESQUE MALCOLM LEVINKIND

A dancer and the tree in a natural landscape mirror the classic ballet arabesque pose. This theatrical relationship is enhanced by other elements, such as ballerinas, newspaper clippings, a clock and dunes, which all perform together.

A ballerina dances the classic "Dying Swan" encircling the fallen tree whilst other ballerinas dance with the other petrified trees in the background as the sun continues to heat the desert.

SOSSUSVLEI BALLET - THE DYING SWAN
MALCOLM LEVINKIND

The male dancers mirror the pose of the central tree as they dance the pas de deux.
